

LIVE BEFORE YOU DIE

YOUR FOUNDER SCORECARD PROFILE

The Burning Engine

All drive, running low on fuel.

Your 7-day plan from the Founder Scorecard

YOUR PROFILE

The Burning Engine

You know why you're building and you're pushing hard. But your energy and your hours are draining faster than you refill them.

Drive isn't your problem. You'd outwork anyone in the room. You've been running at full output for so long that full output became the baseline.

Sleep is the first thing to go. Caffeine fills the gap. Weekends are supposed to be recovery, but they never fully happen. You're working harder than ever, and your results have plateaued anyway.

> You've maxed out the push. The next level comes from clarity, connection and energy.

This isn't about doing less or wanting less. It's about getting your energy and your hours back, so the drive you already have has something to run on.

The next level comes from recovery and better systems, not more pressure.

WHAT IT'S COSTING YOU

Hours worth less than they should be

Every hour you work is worth less than it should be, and the people at home get the fumes.

Your energy

When you're running on empty, you re-read the same email three times. The work still gets done, just slower and worse than you're capable of.

Your decisions

Tired, stressed decisions on hires, deals and strategy are expensive. One bad call can cost more than a month of long nights ever earns.

Your home

You walk in already depleted, so you're shorter with the people you love. The place that should recharge you becomes one more place you have to perform.

Your edge

The fear is that if you ease off even a little, you'll lose your edge. Running empty is what's already costing you the edge.

If home is draining you, you're filling a bucket with a hole in it.

YOUR 7-DAY PLAN

One move a day

One action a day. None of them ask you to want less. They give your drive something to run on.

1

YOUR PROFILE MOVE

Tomorrow, go home on time. Not to fix anything. Just to be there. Notice what you reach for instead.

2

PERFORMANCE

This week: no caffeine after noon and no screens in the last 30 minutes before bed. Rate your energy 1 to 10 each morning, then compare day 1 to day 7.

3

TIME

For three days, write down every task you do. Circle the ones only you can do. By Friday, delegate, automate or delete one of the rest.

4

CONNECTION

In a relationship: Pick three nights this week. Phone in another room from the moment you walk in until your partner goes to bed. Ask one real question each night and hear the full answer.

Single: This week, call two people outside work who matter to you. Not a text. Tell each of them one real thing you're dealing with right now.

5

PURPOSE

This week, finish this sentence and put it where you'll see it every morning: "Everything I'm building is for ___." If you can't finish it, that's your answer.

6

REST AND NOTICE

No new action today. Notice what changed: how you slept, how clear your head felt, how much you got done in fewer hours. Write down one thing you want to keep.

7

RETAKE AND COMPARE

Retake the Founder Scorecard and compare your four scores to the first time. Then start the 30-day retake on the next page.

THE 30-DAY RETAKE

Track the ten that matter

These are the ten core questions from the Founder Scorecard. Rate each 1 to 5 today, then again in 30 days. The gap is your proof.

		TODAY	30 DAYS
1	I can explain clearly what my success is ultimately for.
2	When I hit a big goal, I feel genuinely fulfilled, not just relieved.
3	My relationship with my partner is strong right now. Single: My closest relationships are strong right now.
4	My partner would say I'm fully present when I'm home. Single: When I'm with people I care about, I'm fully present, not in my phone or in my head about work.
5	I have at least two people outside work who know what I'm really going through.
6	I wake up with energy most days without relying on caffeine.
7	I can do 2+ hours of deep, focused work most days.
8	I sleep well and wake up rested.
9	I spend most of my week on work only I can do.
10	I feel in control of my calendar.

Score it honestly. A low number today isn't a verdict. It's your starting line.

WHAT COMES NEXT

You've maxed out the push. Let's build what's next.

Live Before You Die helps driven founders win at work and at home. If this landed, here are two ways to keep going.

01 Join the community
